

YOUNG MAN MAY HAVE BEEN FOULY MURDERED

GRUESOME FIND EARLY SUNDAY MORN

Workman Stumbles Over Corpse in Pan Handle Yards

WAS HORRIBLY MANGLED

Body That of Young Man About 21 Years of Age—Deputy Coroner Notified.

The body of a young, unidentified man was found at 4:30 o'clock Sunday morning almost opposite the tower in the extreme east end of the Panhandle yards by a man named Brown, while going to work. Nothing was found in the clothing that would reveal in the slightest degree the name or residence of the young fellow.

Mr. Brown was very startled when he saw the corpse lying along the north track in the yards, but he hurried to a telephone and called Undertaker McGonagle, who removed the body to the morgue, where it was viewed by Deputy Coroner Wiyiarch, and then prepared for burial.

The dead man is about 21 years of age, about five feet, three inches in height, and has very light brown hair. His weight was about 115 pounds. The theory has been advanced that he may have been a helper with a race horse and may have been trying to beat his way to Coshocton, where the fair is being held this week.

The more startling theory that he might have been assaulted and robbed and his body thrown on the tracks has also gained considerable circulation—due probably to the fact that absolutely nothing was found in any of his pockets. When found the body was dressed in a pair of striped overalls, and a black shirt, striped with white. He had on black shoes that had been originally tan, but were stained, and a pair of brass buckles adorned them. A cap with flaps that buttoned on top and a pair of canvas gloves completed his costume. The fact that his overalls were greasy caused some to think he was a railroad man, but his age would seem to contradict this.

The body was badly mangled, his left leg being mashed off at the thigh and the foot on the same leg was washed. His right arm was badly crushed just above the elbow, and his head was mashed to a jelly. His death was instantaneous and he had been dead probably three hours when found, according to a statement made by Mr. McGonagle.

Many people viewed the body, but none recognized the mutilated form. There were no marks on the body, such as moles or tattoo designs. The body will be kept for a short time and it not claimed it will be buried in the potter's field.

Although nothing happened Monday that shed any light on the finding of the body, the theory of murder or suicide is generally the accepted one. The fact that absolutely nothing was found upon the person of the dead man would go to show that if it was murder every possible clue was removed by the assailants so that the identity of the body would not be discovered before they made good their escape.

The boy, for he was little more than a boy, may have been killed by tramps while riding the train, or in a struggle with them he may have fallen under the wheels. Both theories advanced are plausible though not accepted by the police. That of suicide is generally accepted by the police, who say that for a suicide to destroy everything which would lead to the identification of the body, is a common occurrence, and finding the body stripped of every possible clue the claim sustains the theory.

GOVERNMENTS MAY CLASH

ARMIES SAID TO BE MOBILIZING; WAR IS LIKELY

Bulgaria and Turkey May Clash and Former Country Said to Be Buying Munitions of War.

London, Oct. 5.—The feeling of the diplomatic corps in London today is that the Turkish-Bulgarian imbroglio and the threatened move of Austria-Hungary to annex Bosnia and Herzegovina are problems which, unless the greatest diplomacy is used, will plunge Europe into a devastating war. The majority of diplomats believe that Emperor Franz Joseph is back of the whole thing and that trouble between Turkey and Bulgaria over the possession of a Koumellan section of the Turkish Oriental railway was tated by Austrian-Hungary as the means of averting attention from her annexation plans.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Oct. 5.—Proclamation of Bulgaria as an independent kingdom was formally made at the ancient Bulgarian capital at Tirnova today. A conference of war ministers and chiefs of staff followed. Telegrams were sent throughout Bulgaria, ordering immediate mobilization of all available soldiers. It is expected to have an army of at least 340,000 ready for the field within three days.

Constantinople, Oct. 5.—Turkey will meet Bulgaria's declaration of independence with armed force. Immediately upon the receipt of the official message that Bulgaria has thrown off Turkish suzerainty, the cabinet assembled and is still in session. There is widespread sentiment in favor of deposing Abdul Hamid prior to the declaration of war as a measure of safety. It is feared he will take advantage of war to resume absolute rule. Turkey has 150,000 troops available for duty on short notice, but mobilization of her entire fighting strength, approximately 1,000,000 men, would require at least two months.

London, Oct. 5.—Events which threaten to change the political face of Europe are crystallizing with lightning rapidity. Almost over night, the horizon of the near east, which seemed gradually to be assuming a peaceful appearance, has become crowded with war clouds.

News has reached here from several sources that two definite strokes are impending which cannot fail to bring matters to a crisis and, perhaps, force an immediate war. One is the proclamation by Prince Ferdinand of the independence of Bulgaria, which will include Rumelia, taking for himself the title of "czar." The other is an announcement by Austria-Hungary of the practical annexation of the provinces of Bosnia and Herzegovina as appanages of the Austro-Hungarian crown.

Either action will be equivalent to the tearing up of the treaty of Berlin, while Prince Ferdinand's course seems almost certain to precipitate a war between Austria and Turkey.

Before these possibilities, the quarrel over the east Roumelian section of the Oriental railway sinks into insignificance. Both armies are reported to be quietly and swiftly mobilizing near the borders. Bulgaria is said to be buying munitions and horses on an extensive scale.

CONGRESSMAN ASHBROOK ENDORSED BY COSHOCTON SPANISH WAR VETERANS

Coshocton, O., Oct. 5.—At a conference and banquet of the Spanish-American war veterans held in the city, Congressman William A. Ashbrook was unanimously endorsed for a second term with great enthusiasm. Although twenty-six of the members present were Republicans, the endorsement was given without a dissenting voice.

A feature of the meeting and the endorsement is that each of the members pledged themselves to bring two

CASTRO WILL FIGHT IF DUTCH URGE DEMANDS

President Castro Will Not Yield, and Promises Holland a Warm Time.
Has Been Ill.

Caracas, Sept. 28, via Willemstad, Oct. 5.—President Castro returned to Caracas a few days ago, cutting short his stay at Barquicimeto on account of ill health. For a time the president was a very sick man, but his condition is improving now, but as yet he has not been able to give his attention to Holland's second note, which Baron Seckendorf, the German minister, presented to him on Friday last.

The belief is held here that President Castro will not yield to the Dutch demands and that rather than do this he would fight.

BRYAN CRITICISM

Of Roosevelt Coincides With the Tribune's Strictures on Arthur.

Fairview, Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 5.—Mr. Bryan has given out the following statement:

"When I criticized the president for using an office which belonged to all the people, I did not know that I was using language so much like that which had been employed before, but my attention has been called to an editorial in the New York Tribune of October 25, 1892. It criticizes President Arthur for taking part in the campaign in behalf of the Republican ticket, and says:

"Why should he assist in the campaign of any party? He is the president of the whole party and not the manager of elections in any part of it."

"This is so completely in harmony with my criticism that I am glad to indorse it, although it was not brought to my attention until today."

BRYAN STARTS CAMPAIGN TOUR

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 5.—William J. Bryan will leave here tonight for a final campaign tour which with the exceptions of Sundays, will last until the very morning of election. His plans of a couple more days of rest were rudely broken by National Committee man Wade of Iowa, who assured him by telephone today that his presence is needed in eastern Iowa to ensure that state to the Democrats. Mr. Bryan will leave at midnight for Des Moines.

WILL ROOSEVELT TAKE THE STUMP FOR JUDGE TAFT?

Washington, Oct. 5.—The absorbing question as to whether or not President Roosevelt will take the stump for Taft remains unanswered. At the White House today it was stated that the situation was unchanged. The last statement was that the President had not decided as yet to make any campaign speeches.

The man who is known as a good fellow generally makes a bad husband.

GOMPERS REPLIES TO JUDGE TAFT

Claims Candidate is Los- ing His Temper as Well as Manners

HANDS OUT HOT ONES

Denies That He Ever Pretended He Could Deliver Labor Vote of Country.

Washington, Oct. 5.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, issued a statement Saturday night in which William H. Taft, Republican candidate for President, is bitterly arraigned because of the latter's charge, in a speech at Denver that the labor leader was "lying to his followers."

"It is quite evident that Candidate Taft is losing his temper, as well as his manners and his dignity," asserts Mr. Gompers. "He cannot meet the truth and the justice of labor's contention as regards his injunctions, his party's refusal in congress to accord the relief from discriminating designs against the workers in the injunction abuse and from the Sherman anti-trust law, under which the voluntary organizations of the working people are now held as trusts. I assert he cannot meet these issues, and he therefore undertakes to resort to the well known policy of the pettifogger, who has a bad case, that is, by abusing the other side."

"The working people of the country know that Mr. Taft's ridicule and rasping sarcasm are not aimed at me, but at them, for there is not one thought I have expressed, or one step which I have taken but had their initiative in the rank and file of America's toiling masses, unorganized as well as organized."

"But Mr. Taft departing from his lighter vein of attack, accuses me of lying. In what have I lied in regard to any matter, at least in regard to Judge Taft? Those who know me will attest my dependability and my veracity. Judge Taft is the first respectable man to question either."

In language quite so vigorous and positive as that used by Mr. Taft, the labor leader reiterates much which he has previously said in editorials and on the platform about the failure of the Chicago convention to grant the demands of labor and also the attitude of the Republican majority in congress toward the labor element.

"In so stating, have I been lying or have I told the truth?" inquires Mr. Gompers.

"Did not Candidate Taft read, or did not some one tell him, that neither my colleagues nor myself have either by word or action assumed that we had the right or the power to deliver the labor vote to any candidate? Does he not know that upon every occasion in this campaign I have emphatically declared that I did not presume either to dictate or deliver the vote of any citizen of the country, and having known this fact, is it fair for Mr. Taft to declare and reiterate so palpable an untruth?"

TRAVELING MEN FAVOR BRYAN

Chicago, Oct. 5.—Thomas Taggart, national committeeman from Indiana, arrived at Democratic national headquarters and conferred with Vice Chairman John E. Limb and Roosevelt. Mr. Taggart is chairman of the Commercial Traveling Men's Bryan League, and declared that reports from commercial travelers indicated that a wave of Bryan sentiment was sweeping over the East from New York, had engulfed Ohio and covered Indiana.

LONGWORTH AND HIS OPPONENT IN RACE FOR SEAT IN CONGRESS

NICHOLAS LONGWORTH

President Roosevelt, has for his Democratic opponent in the coming election Dr. Thomas P. Hart, a Cincinnati editor, who was nominated with practically no opposition. Dr. Hart is a forceful speaker and is popular with both the business and labor elements in Cincinnati. Mr. Longworth was re-elected to the last congress by a plurality of 7,157 votes over T. H. Benham.

RENEWAL OF ROOSEVELT REIGN WOULD BE ALARMING

Longworth the Burchard of the Campaign—Ultimate Tendency of Anti-Administration Vote Cannot be Determined.

"I believe Mr. Taft should serve eight years as president. After that I consider that we should elect Mr. Roosevelt for eight years."—Speech of Nicholas Longworth, son-in-law of Theodore Roosevelt.

New York, Oct. 5.—The Sun (Rep.) this morning publishes the following editorial under the caption of "Timely Notification from the Hon. Nicholas Longworth."

"The result of the coming election will depend largely upon the vote of the anti-Roosevelt Republicans. Until Mr. Roosevelt's rather injudicious intrusion of his personality into the political canvass this formidable element of the Republican party remained loyal to its candidates, not because it welcomed a Roosevelt candidate upon a Roosevelt platform, but because it accepted Mr. Taft as a lesser evil than Mr. Bryan."

"While the complete attitude of Mr. Taft to Mr. Roosevelt's overshadowing importance in the campaign has caused some wavering in the lines of the anti-Roosevelt Republicans, we still believe that a very large percentage of this faction is still disposed to back the ill-fated Taft, rather than fly to others that they know no of."

Unquestionably a small, but appreciable, percentage of the anti-Roosevelt Republicans will vote for Mr. Bryan on the theory that there is no other way to eliminate Theodore Roosevelt from the politics of this country than the present and a still longer period will not make a difference in the fact of his election and that of a Roosevelt candidate.

"The theories were no more sound than the humor of the ill-fated Taft. It could be altogether probable that these anti-Roosevelt Republicans could find the side of the Roosevelt candidate a very different one. The anti-Roosevelt Republicans will be the balance of power, and in the present conditions which are chaotic and confused, they will be the deciding factor."

One saloonist declares that the county will be sued if the return money is not forthcoming at once.

Many Escape By Jumping to Roof of Adjacent Buildings—Infants
Saved by Firemen.

New York, Oct. 5.—Ten persons dead, several badly burned and six seriously injured is the toll of an incendiary fire that early today completely gutted the Barker building in the heart of the crowded Mulberry street district. Cut off from any possible chance of escape from the terrible death which confronted them, inmates, crazed with terror, plunged into the roaring furnace. The few who did manage to escape jumped to the roofs of adjacent buildings, and thence to the sidewalks, many sustaining internal injuries that will result in death. Six infants were taken from windows in the arms of police and firemen on the sidewalk.

Anyway, as the story goes, he met Mr. Kiefer on the street and said, "John, why don't you sent me around some of dose string of fish you got so many?" Oseuse me, Peter," replied the generous Mr. Kiefer, "but when that string came to the city they were not in shape to eat, or of course I would have sent you your share." "Dot's all right," Mr. Ritzer got back; "you sent dot string around to my house, and I'll eat it, don't you worry about the shape, Mr. Mr. Kiefer had the string photographed and sent the picture to Mr. Ritzer, and he is now waiting for a chance to get even.

Strange Coincidence. Mr. Edward Cosgrove and wife, of Marion, O., who have been visiting friends and relatives here for some time, returned home Sunday. Mr. Cosgrove while here related a singular coincidence that happened at Prospect, which town is in Marion county. On the day that the county voted "dry," the artesian well that partially supplies Prospect and is far famed for its health renewing properties, stopped flowing for the first time in its history. The discontinuance of the flow of water is a hard blow to Prospect in many ways, for while it blended finely with alcoholic stimulants, it was a great source of revenue to the village, for people

ROOSEVELT'S PANIC

Dun's report, issued October 1, shows that during the year 1908, up to September 30, there had been 11,945 failures, aggregating $179,677,523 of defaulted indebtedness, as compared with 8,090 failures involving $116,036,348 defaulted indebtedness during the same period of 1907. How the Republican papers would howl about it if Grover Cleveland or any other Democrat were president now.

With increasing number of failures, and increased volume of loss from such failures during this year President Roosevelt had the greswone hardihood to say in one of his recent edicts commanding the people to vote for his heir apparent, that if Bryan is elected "we will have a panic."

What does Roosevelt call the kind of "prosperity" he has given the country the past year? Every branch of the government has been under his control, and his "heir apparent" is a candidate to succeed him to continue his "policies."

Bryan's election could not cause a panic. We have a panic now, and it is ROOSEVELT'S PANIC.

Bryan's election would stop ROOSEVELT'S PANIC by restoring the rule of the people.

FALSE PRETENSES REGARDING THE EMPTY DINNER PAIL

Taft is telling the people to vote for a continuance of Roosevelt's policies and fill the dinner pail.

That is the desperate expedient of a desperate candidate.

It is confession the dinner pail is empty; otherwise it would not be necessary to fill it.

This brings up the question inevitably, who emptied the dinner pail?

We can find answer to that in the words of the candidate. He has grown elaborate, more than once, ex-

THE CASE OF JAN POUREN

"FIRST WASH YOUR BLOODY HANDS." Such was the reply of the New England Congress to the czar's demand for the extradition of Jan Pouden, a Russian refugee, confined since last January in a cell of the Tombs prison in New York City.

Jan Pouden was taken into custody by the Federal authorities at the ex-patiating on prosperity that Roosevelt brought to the country, describing it as the most wonderful a nation has ever known; but he admits, under other circumstances, that depression begins now, promising a return of good times if he be elected.

It so happens though, that we do not have to depend on the indirect admission of Taft to prove the hard times. We have sadly plentiful evidence at hand and under our own eyes. There are the row after row of "Teddy Bear" locomotives at the terminals, whose wheels are not revolving, the half-closed shops and the steel mills running off and on with scores and scores of men idle.

Neither can it be said these are but the evidences of local dullness. We have the evidence of others, those high in Republican party councils and of mighty influence in the affairs of the country, that the condition is wide-spread. The Honorable Leslie M. Shaw, once secretary of the treasury under Roosevelt, says, the panic of last October was the most sudden and severe that history ever knew, and only the most heroic exertions of the great financiers kept it from developing into a calamity, under which the land would have been weighted down for years. The Pittsburg Leader, unquestioning supporter of Roosevelt and his doing, says, thousand and thousands of idle workmen walk the streets of that world's center of iron products and the dread spectre of the soup house is again visible.

It is not profession, but performance that counts. Under the last 12 years of Republican rule trusts have magnified, combinations have grown in number and importance, the number of vast personal fortunes has enormously increased, but there is hard times for the country at large and the people generally. Like does not cure like. The policies prevailing have produced these conditions, it is not logical to assume the same policies continued will cure them.

TAFT CORNERED ON PUBLICITY OF CAMPAIGN FUNDS

Mr. Bryan finally succeeded in driving Mr. Taft into a corner on the proposition to give publicity to campaign contributions before election.

In his reply to President Roosevelt's trade of vauperation Mr. Bryan challenged the president to make public the contributions to the Republican campaign fund in 1896, 1900 or 1904. "I am willing to have both funds published, are you?" is the question put up squarely to the president by Mr. Bryan. And after showing up the weakness of the president's position in favor of publicity after election Mr. Bryan said: "I venture the assertion that you cannot procure from Mr. Taft an endorsement of your defense."

Mr. Taft promptly took his place in the corner by saying in a speech at Lincoln, Neb.: "Mr. Bryan challenges me to take the same position that President Roosevelt takes with reference to the time when publicity should be made of campaign contributions and I accept the challenge. I TAKE EXACTLY THE SAME POSITION. TAKES. I have always been in favor of a law which will require publicity of both contribution and expenditures immediately AFTER ELECTION."

So, there you are. Once more it is shown that Mr. Taft is only Roosevelt's proxy as a candidate. He has no policy of his own. He takes exactly the same position the president takes, and is not willing to have it known who are contributing to his campaign until AFTER ELECTION. Neither was Roosevelt in 1904.

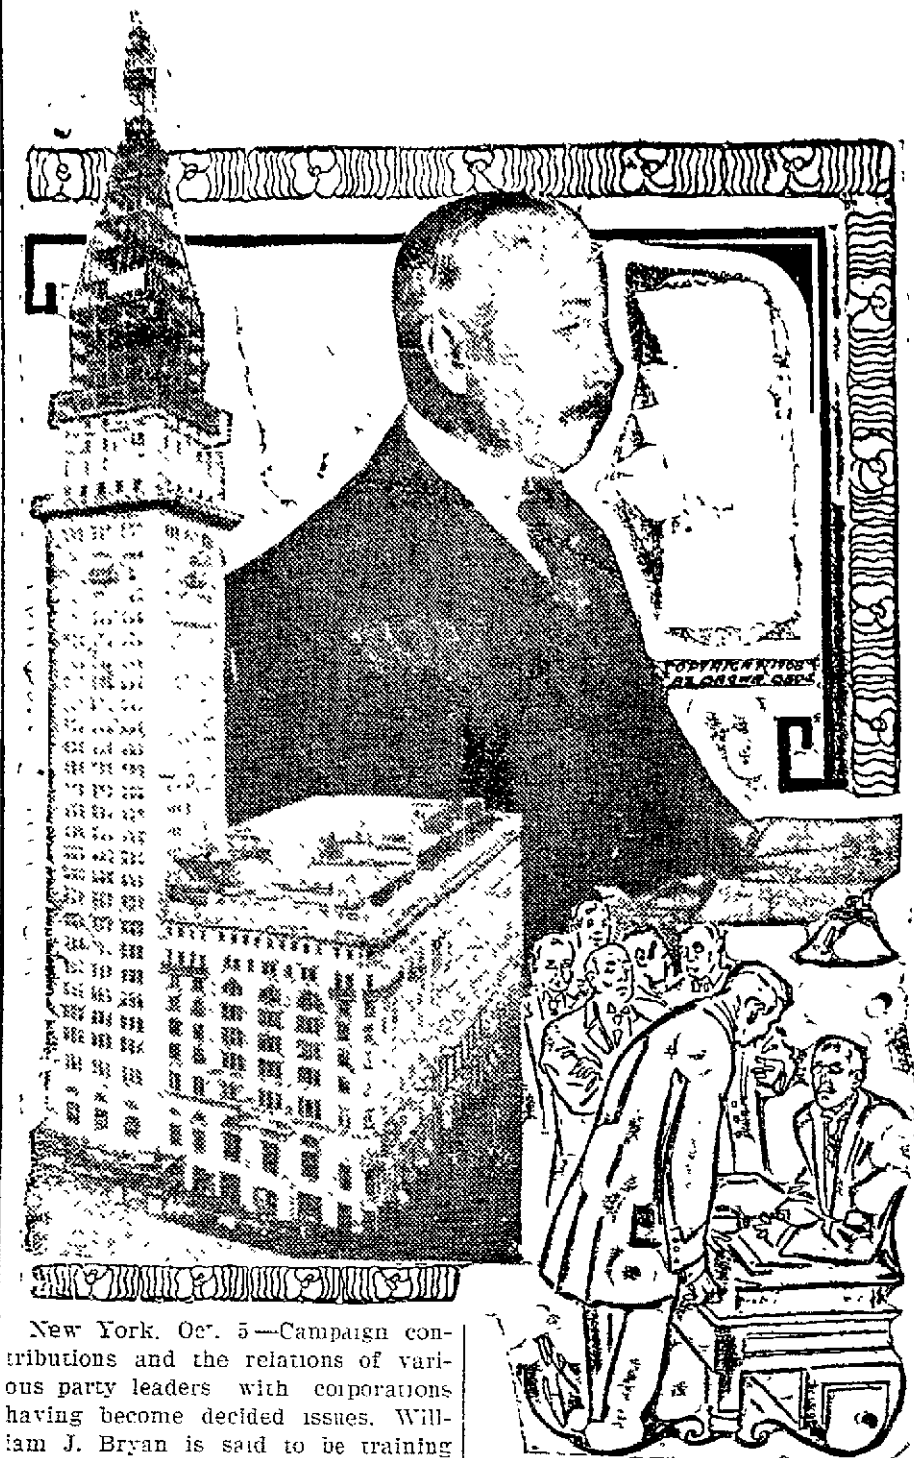

The exposure of "yellow dog" lands and "My Dear Mr. Harriman's" campaign collections did not become public until after Roosevelt was elected in 1904, so that we can fully understand Taft's position now.

GEORGE R. SHELDON, ON WHOM BRYAN NOW TRAINS HIS CAMPAIGN GUNS

New York, Oct. 5.—Campaign contributions and the relations of various party leaders with corporations having become decided issues, William J. Bryan is said to be training his guns on George R. Sheldon, treasurer of the Republican national committee. In the letters which have passed between President Roosevelt and Bryan the $300,000 which Sheldon raised for Governor Hughes' campaign in 1906 has been referred to. It is reported that agents at work quest of the Russian government as a common criminal, under charges of murder, arson, burglary and attempted murder. In the long drawn out proceedings before Commissioner Shields he was completely exonerated of the murder charges. As to the other offenses, it was conclusively shown during the revolutionary rising of the Baltic provinces of Russia in the years 1905 and 1906. Even the evidence introduced by the Russian government showed that Pouden had taken an active part in the revolutionary rising. Nevertheless Commissioner Shields ordered in favor of the czar's demand.

From this opinion an appeal has now been taken to the president and to the American people as a high tribunal of public opinion. Protest meetings have been held in many places and strong resolutions in favor of maintaining the right of political asylum passed unanimously.

When Franklin H. Wentworth, the famous Boston orator, gave vent to his righteous indignation recently in the historic hall of Cooper Union in New York, thundering at the czar: "First wash your bloody hands," the immense assembly responded in frantic applause.

The speaker had given voice to the thought that was in everybody's heart, trembling on every lip.

The civilized world shudders as it beholds the cold and cruel butchery in which the czar's henchmen indulge since the temporary defeat of the Russian people. It responds warmly to Taft's noble protest against these unspeakable atrocities. But it believes as it powerless to stay the hands of the Russian barbarians at home.

The case is different when the czar now reaches over to see in an attempt to seek another victim who has found a refuge on American soil. Jan Pouden, though merely a poor Polish peasant, will be defended by the American people against the Russian torturers and hangmen. From ocean to ocean the American answer to the czar will be: "First wash your bloody hands."

FINE RECITAL AT GRANVILLE SATURDAY EVE

Mr. Samuel Lamberson, of Coshocton, entertained a number of his Friends at Mt. Parnassus.

Granville, Oct. 5.—An audience of about one hundred music-lovers of Granville and Stark enjoyed a rare treat Saturday evening, when Mr. Sam Lamberson, of Coshocton, Ohio, gave a recital at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. White, on Mount Parnassus, Granville, Ohio. Mr. Lamberson, who received much of his musical education in Granville, was personally acquainted with many of the audience—a fact which contributed a further element to their enjoyment, the sympathy between performer and listener enabling the former to give his best and the latter to fully appreciate the offering.

Scarlatti Pastorale Schubert Menuetto, B-minor Mendelssohn Variations series, op. 5 Chopin—Three Etudes, op. 10, Nos. 1, 3 and 9. Valse, A-flat, op. 42. Donizetti Sextette from "Lucia" Arranged for left hand alone by MacDowell To a Wild Rose Shadow Dance. Etude de Concert, F-sharp Schubmann Etude, op. 28, No. 4 Rubinstein Etude, op. 27, No. 11 Hensell Ave Marie Poldini Klavierstücke, op. 10, No. 2 As seen the program rendered was one of great variety and furnished Mr. Lamberson with an opportunity to exhibit his rare command over different styles of playing. There were selections—Scarlatti, Schubert, Mendelssohn, Chopin, Donizetti, Lischetzky, MacDowell, Schumann, Liszt, Brahms, Hensell, Poldini and Liszt—a program which includes so many styles of composition that the effective interpretation of them all might well demand artistic ability of a high order. Mr. Lamberson's rendition of each number was a lot of superb artistry, indeed it was the unanimous opinion of the audience that New York and Granville have never heard more commendable and different styles of playing. It goes without saying that those who heard his playing Saturday evening were delighted with the ripe artistry of Mr. Lamberson, whose early brilliant career has been a record of success. He has for several years been pianist in the concert company of Ernest Gamble, the eminent bass, and during this time he has played with remarkable success in almost every city of the United States. Next week his company will leave for another "trance" continuing tour. They will also visit Erie, where they will remain four weeks.

The Unprincipled Man Always Haunted by Shadows.

By Rev. Dr. MADISON C. PETERS of New York.

ALL gotten gains can never make the possessor happy. On the contrary, they bring misery in their train. The unprincipled man is ALWAYS HAUNTED BY SHADOWS which, like Banquo's ghost, will not down. His conscience troubles. There is a constant gnawing at the heart which never allows surcease from suspicion and apprehension of the future.

Not alone is his mental equilibrium unbalanced, but his physical being is indicative of the strain in the sunken eye, the pale cheek, the nervous tremor, the uncertain step. A FEAR IS EVER UPON HIM which he cannot shake off, and, though he may be a Croesus, he cannot purchase that contentment of mind and poise of body which confer their happiness on the poor man who has led an upright life, true to principle, and who, like Longfellow's blacksmith, CAN LOOK THE WHOLE WORLD IN THE FACE AND FEAR NOT ANY MAN.

The unprincipled man sails in a ship like the fabled one of old which when it approached the magnetic mountain had all the nails and bolts drawn out and went to pieces in the depths of the sea.

BUT THE MAN OF PRINCIPLE, SELF SUSTAINED, IS INVULNERABLE, CAN SURMOUNT EVERY DIFFICULTY, WITHSTAND EVERY SIEGE AND TRIUMPH IN HIS OWN VINDICATION.

Savings Talks. No. 3

Every person has a desire to share in the increase of wealth but many want greater prosperity than is offered by the rate of interest paid by the savings banks. The newspapers carry many schemes that promise great returns from few dollars invested, which influence the small saver to withdraw his earnings from the banks to invest. We advise caution on the part of all who contemplate such a move. There are only a few exceptional cases where small sums are invested safely, and which pay more than a reasonable interest return. The bank is a convenient place for keeping your savings; it is a place for funds and the interest rate is consistent with safety. Your money earns a stated amount of interest; this is paid at regular times. The bank stands behind the guarantee of 4 per cent. interest.

MISSING SUIT CASE FOUND

BUT MISSING $300 WAS NOT LOCATED—"STRANGE STORY COMES TO LIGHT."

Demented Man Visits Newark While Carrying Thousands in His Pockets.

The Mystery of the Suit Case would be a good heading for a new case the police have entered in their book of crime. And the mystery is one that would delight Sherlock Holmes or Conan Doyle fame. At any rate the police are up to their ears in work and not the faintest glimmer of light can they see ahead of them. They have one clue, but this they decline to discuss at the present time for obvious reasons.

About a week ago J. R. Elliott of Sistersville registered at the Warden hotel and after staying a couple of days left for parts unknown. Later he was arrested in Springfield on an insanity charge and locked up. On his person was found $4,500, the remainder of a considerable sum he took with him when he left his home.

Later he recovered somewhat from the dementia and said that while in Newark he purchased a suit case to carry his money in, and he also declared he left his old grip in his room at the Warden hotel. He was emphatic in his statement that he also left $300 in a stand drawer.

His brother, J. G. Elliott, has arrived in Newark and at once went to police headquarters where he stated his case, and a visit to the Warden was made. The suit case was found, but no money could be located. As Mr. Elliott is said to have been slightly demented when in Newark some doubt exists as to whether he left any money here or not, but the finding of the suit case showing his memory to be fairly good, shows that he may have left the money as he says. The police will make further investigation.

ASKS DAMAGE FOR KILLING OF HIS MULE

Mr. H. R. P. Miller Suing R. and O. C. Railway—Other Court Cases.

The court and the jury took up the case of Harrison R. P. Miller vs. T. & O. C. Railway company. He asks to recover the value of a mule killed by an engine in August, 1907. He says that the fence separating his farm from the right of way of the defendant was defective and insufficient to turn stock, and claims negligence on the part of the company in not having kept it in repair. He asks for a judgment for $150.

In the case of Isaiah Anderson vs. E. C. Taylor, a suit for an injunction to restrain the cutting of certain timber, the court dissolved the temporary restraining order and dismissed the petition.

ALMAHEAR HEARING

A hearing in the alimony case of Grace Kirkendall vs. William Kirkendall, was had in the probate court Monday morning, when the court ordered the defendant to pay the plaintiff $15 alimony per month.

DECLARED INSANE

An inquest of lunacy was held on John Ridenour in the probate court Monday morning. He has been living some seven or eight miles southeast of the city. He is 40 years of age, has a family, and one year ago last June he was sent to the State Hospital. The examining physicians Monday pronounced him insane and he will be taken over to Columbus Tuesday.

ANSWERS AND CROSS-PETITIONS. Answers and cross-petitions have been filed by Carl Koppel, and George D. Dicken in the case of Ralph Wyeth vs. The Newark Sanitarium company. They ask that the court take an account of the amount due on certain notes, and of the amount not paid by a time to be fixed by the court, that an order of sale issue to the sheriff, commanding him to appraise, advertise and sell the premises.

MOTION TO NISSEN OUT

In the case of Lena Nielsen vs. The Columbus, Newark and Erie Electric company, the Ohio Electric Railway company, A. G. Gibe, the Ohio Electric Railway company has filed a motion to strike from plaintiff's petition certain words.

AMENDED ANSWER AND CROSS-PETITION

In the case of Amos Lading vs. John Rader, the defendant has filed his answer and cross-petition, in which he asks judgment against the plaintiff in the sum of $20.

MOTION FILED

In the case of John L. Ogden vs. The City of Newark, Ohio, and others, the plaintiff has filed a motion to require the defendants to appear in court, and consequently number the defenses in their answer.

Care of Lamps.

The bowl of the lamp should be kept full of oil, but when not in use the oil should be turned low to keep the wick from coaling out on the burner. The burners should be cleaned occasionally by boiling them for half an hour in a strong solution of Gold Dust washing powder. Wipe on a cloth and they will be as good as new. To clean the chimneys, wash them in warm water to which has been added a teaspoonful of Gold Dust washing powder and wipe dry on a soft towel; polish with an old newspaper. Lamp chimneys are made more durable if they are put into a pan of cold water and allowed to soak gradually all the water is boiled and left in the water until cold again.

A Blunder.

(Original.)

When I left home for Miss Harmon's school for girls my father lived in Illinois. When I was graduated he had removed to Bankton, N. Y. He gave me the street and number, but he was a lawyer, and lawyers were in those days proverbial for their wretched handwriting, so I found it difficult to make out the address. As near as I could come to deciphering the name of the street it was Lafayette. This was not correct. It was Sabelle street. Leaving the station on my arrival, I took a cab and told the driver to take me to 50 Lafayette street. When I saw the house I was surprised that my father could afford to live in it. I had left a two story frame cottage in the west to come to a four story stone front house in the east.

I paid the coachman and, going up the stoop, rang the bell. A maid came to the door whom I had never seen, and I told her to tell mother that I had come from school. She asked me whom she should say had come. I told her "her daughter, of course," and, going into the drawing room, looked about me at the handsome furniture, still wondering how father had been able to purchase it. The maid went upstairs to make the announcement.

I waited quite a long while for her return. When she came down she told me that no one was at home except my mother, who had recently had a cataract removed from one of her eyes and was obliged to remain in a dark room. I was surprised, for I had not been informed of these things anything the matter with her eye, and as the maid said I was to go up to her I ran upstairs and through a room that had been darkened so that one entering my mother's room should not let in any light. The chamber occupied by my mother was so dark that I could scarcely see my hand before my face. I didn't know which way to turn till she called me, and even then I went in the wrong direction till she had done so several times. Then I found her sitting in an easy chair and put my arms around her neck.

"Why, child," she said, "why did you write to me that you would come tomorrow? Your brother would have met you at the station."

I was startled. My mother's voice had changed. Could it be that her trouble with her eye had broken her faculties?

"There's some mistake about that mother dear," I replied. "I wrote that I was coming on Thursday, Thursday and Friday by a bad writer may be made to look alike. Perhaps there's where the error lies."

I was about to speak of her trouble when I heard the door of the ante-room open and shut. Then the door of the room I was in opened, some one hurried in, and a man's voice said: "Where are you, sis?"

"I'm here."

"Ellen told me you'd come, and come a day ahead of time."

My brother Tom, ten years my senior, never called me anything but "sis" and "sissy," but there was something wrong with his voice. I had no time to wonder what had caused the change when I felt myself clasped in two strong arms and lips pressed against mine.

"What's become of your beard?" I asked.

"Beard! I never had one. We've been counting on your coming. Mother is shut up for the present, but she'll come out all right. The doctor says she may have the light in one week more. Awful glad to see you—I mean to feel you, ha, ha! Can't see anything in here. Have to rely on the touch." And he gave me another good hug and several kisses. "But come out into the light. I want to see how you've improved. You won't mind, will you, mother?"

"Not if you don't keep her too long." Putting his arm around my waist, he led me out through the ante-room, and, opening the outer door, we stood on the threshold between the room and the hall.

I say we stood there, and so we did. We didn't get any farther, at least not just then. Never were two people more astonished, bewildered. We were entire strangers to each other.

"Gracious Scott!" was his exclamation.

"Heaven's!" was mine.

He dropped his arm as if it had been shot, and I quickly drew away.

"How in the name of—"

"I must have—got into—the wrong!"

At this point he regained his equilibrium. "If you're not my sister, you're certainly worthy to be any one's sister."

At any rate, I'm happy to make your acquaintance, even by mistake, though I assure you I don't usually on so slight an acquaintance."

He paused, and my face flushed crimson.

"Come," he said reassuringly, "tell me how it happened."

I told him my story, and he replied that his own sister, who had been away from home on a long visit, was expected the next day. He insisted that I needed a luncheon and ordered one, and while I was eating it he telephoned for a carriage. When it came he got in with me and began a hunt for me for my home. My father's name was not in the directory, but I told my new friend that he was an attorney, and driving to the office of one of the profession, we learned the address. Ten minutes later I was with my own family.

The family into which I had blended became my intimate friends. The daughter called on me, and the son has been so attentive to me as to we shall see.

SHOT GUN

In the Hands of Two Foreigners Held Jennings and Nelson Prisoners In a Shed.

When Officer Hager arrived in a back yard in the Wehrle addition Saturday, he laughed long and loud, for in a little outhouse stood James Jennings and Joe Nelson, while two foreigners stood guard over them with a shot gun, holding them until the policemen reached the scene.

The two prisoners were charged by Adam Bera with robbing his garden of cabbages, and he was on the lookout for them. When he caught them he flashed the gun and made them enter the shed until the police arrived. The men claim they had permission to get some vegetables from a garden patch in the vicinity, but they also admit that they got into the wrong one. They were given five days each by Mayor Atherton.

CHARLES MYERS

Plunges Into Raccoon Creek and Rescues Six-Year-Old Lad From Watery Grave.

Sunday afternoon at about 8 o'clock while Mr. Charles Myers of the Newark Warehouse and Storage company, and Mr. "Butch" Williams were driving in the vicinity of the abutment that is being constructed at the West end of Church street on the Raccoon creek their attention was attracted by the cries of a crowd of people who were in a state of excitement over some happenings in the stream.

Mr. Myers and Mr. Williams hurried over to the abutment and found a boy about six years old holding by his fingers to a projection on the second offset in the concrete work, and as the child was rapidly becoming exhausted and there being no way to reach him from above, without hesitation Mr. Myers plunged in the water and pulled the boy from his perilous perch, and handed him to his mother who was profuse in her thanks to the heroic life saver.

The water at this place is about five feet in depth and but for the quick action of Mr. Myers the child would likely have been drowned, for while there were several men at the scene, none seemed to have the presence of mind to rescue the child or else were afraid of getting their clothes wet.

FINAL

Speed Events Were Exciting and Pleased Big Crowd

MEET SATISFACTORY

LADY MILLER SHOWED EFFECTS OF WORK THE DAY BEFORE.

Peter Chimes Lands First Money in Pace, and Lady Lou Wins Out in Fast Trot.

When Lady Lou trotted under the wire winning the final heat of the 2-3 trot, the racing season in Newark closed some of the prettiest speed events ever seen here. From start to finish the meeting was a success in every way, and with the exception of the doubt that existed concerning Lady Miller, and caused the protest against her, nothing was to mar the sport. As already told in detail in "The Advocate" there were several accidents, but none of them resulted in injury to any of the drivers, although one horse—Rosebloom—a runner, had to be shot.

The crowd, Saturday, though not as large as the one the day previous was nevertheless great enough to show that the efforts of the managers of the fair was appreciated. The quarter stables were crowded and the two large stands were well filled by eager spectators. No driver lost a chance to show their appreciation of the work of the horses and their drivers. A little dissatisfaction was occasioned in the third heat of the 2-3 pace, when it was charged that Charles Postwick "pulled" Lady Miller and finished her in third place. The judges, however, decided in favor of the driver, and the horse was placed Harry Dunn, of Zaneville, behind her, but the best he could do was to lose to Lady Lou in the fourth heat. Postwick protested that the mare would only get at her best for him and he was finally reinstated behind the mare, while the crowd applauded long and loud when they saw the little driver behind the favorite.

The result was a dismal failure for the heat, the mare landed in first place. She had paced four heats the day before, and the strain was too much for her. Bestwick, it is claimed, was dishonest on the track last year, when he raced Lillian S. at Lancaster, under the name of Minnie Silver, and cleaned everything that was entered against him. It is said that Lady Miller was secured under a guarantee that she could go in about 2:12. Postwick has filed his affidavit that the mare is not as he represents her, and the case will be fully investigated.

Peter Chimes, Lady Miller, Tommy Temple and Max C. finished the interest in the race, though Peter Chimes was about the whole car and had a walkaway after the first two heats. Tommy Temple showed in good style and the little horse driven by Lee, showed he "had something." In the fourth heat he landed in fifth place, owing to the fact that the jockey mashed the horse and the horse was led past the judges' stand.

That was the only accident of the day in the two races and the two heats of the postponed races of the day before. The running race had to be called off owing to injuries to the horses, and the crowd was sent away slightly disappointed, for the runners are popular in Newark.

The weather was the best of the week, and the day was almost an ideal one for the sport. Favorites were numerous and the backers of the favorites got up a good evening in sight to show their faith in their choice.

THREE YALE FOOTBALL STARS IN ACTION AND SCENE OF THEIR PRACTICE PLAY.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 5.—Coy, Yale's sensational fullback, who was the football marvel of last year, begins the present season brilliantly. In the opening game with Wesleyan he caught a kickoff and by main strength scored a touchdown after being tackled.

led. Hobbs, Yale's left tackle, got into the game with plenty of vim, and Wheaton also gave a good account of himself. All of Yale's stars are jubilant over the prospects of a gridiron aggregation that will rival many of the famous teams of the past.

HERMANN'S DEFEATED

Old Homestead Team Hands Out the Second Defeat to the City League Champions.

The Hermanns were defeated for the second time this season by the Old Homestead team, when the two squads met for the final struggle at Wehrle park, Sunday afternoon. The game was well attended, and the spectators saw some excellent playing by both teams. Harris, the twister for the Old Homestead boys, had everything and twelve of the Hermanns batters smoked out before him. Winters was also in the game with his arm, and seven strikeouts are credited to him. The errors of the Hermann team were costly. McCann, who worked for the Newark (Ohio) State team part of last season, was behind the bat for the Homestead boys, and caught a pretty game.

FOOTBALL

Game Between Newark High and Doane Academy Resulted in a Tie.

Newark High played the first game of the season on the gridiron of Beaver field at Granville with the lads of Doane academy and the game resulted in a tie, 5 to 5.

A good crowd of rooters accompanied the boys from this city Saturday afternoon and when play was called there were about three hundred spectators present. The game was rather slow and the Doane boys were not up on signals, in fact they had to stop several times during the last half and frame up a few before play could be resumed. The local boys were a little off in their work and lost considerable ground on forward passes. Two halves were played of 24 and 25 minutes and touchdowns were made by Black and Wilson. Captain Warner had charge of the Newark squad and Unger for Doane. The line up was as follows:

Newark High.

Had Stiff Proposition to Face—Naps Need One Game—Pretty Light Undecided.

Chicago, Oct. 5.—Pittsburg was Sunday climaxed from the National league pennant race when Chicago scored a 5-to-2 victory before a crowd which was declared to be the largest of the year paid to see a game of baseball in the world. Yesterday's game was the final one of the season for Chicago and Pittsburg, while New York has three more to play, all with Boston.

If one of these games is not played by reason of the weather or for other cause or if Boston wins one, the pennant will go to Chicago for the third successive year. By winning all three New York will exactly equal Chicago's percentage of .641. Sunday night Chicago leads the league with .641. Pittsburg is second with .636, and New York third, and did not play Sunday, as third with .622.

FOUND DESTITUTE WOMAN CAMPING ALONG ROADSIDE

Brought to This City by Sheriff Redman and Will Be Cared For at County Infirmary.

A young man named Horton, who lives in Newton township, came to the city and notified Sheriff Redman that an aged woman, apparently in very destitute circumstances, was camping out by the side of a little camp fire, alongside the railroad, and that she had been there all night. Sheriff Redman immediately notified Township Trustee William Harrington, and the two officers drove out to the place and found the woman shivering over the embers of the fire. She was very thinly clad, and had nothing to eat. She was brought to Newark and taken to the county jail where she received proper attention. She gave her name as Mary Moore and said that she and her husband had walked from Pennsylvania but that her husband left her Saturday and failed to return. She will be sent to the county infirmary and cared for, at least for a time.

VISIT'S SAN FRANCISCO AND FIRE IS BURNING UP ENTIRE WATER FRONT.

Entire Fire Force of City Fighting the Flames, and Damage Estimated at Half Million.

San Francisco, Oct. 5.—A half million dollars damage is estimated to have been already done by a fire raging on the water front. The blaze started in the coal bunkers of the Pacific Coal company and spread rapidly, destroying several warehouses. Practically the entire fire force of the city is engaged in fighting the flames, which threaten the whole water front.

By reason of the Cleveland-St. Louis tie yesterday, these teams still have three games to play. By winning all of them, Cleveland would get the pennant, in the event of Detroit losing one game to Chicago.

By winning one of the remaining two games from Chicago, Detroit will win in the event that Cleveland drops two to St. Louis. The outcome of today's game therefore makes the finish of the American league race narrower and more exciting than ever.

IT IS ALLEGED HE WOULD NOT WORK AND WHEN ORDERED TO DO SO BY HIS WIFE AND MOTHER-IN-LAW HE KIDNAPED THE CHILD IN A SPIRIT OF REVENGE.

As a result of a pin scratch, Mr. Charles Allen, one of the most popular hardware clerks in the city, now in the employ of the Crane-Bliss company, and chief doorman at the Auditorium theatre, is lying seriously ill with blood poisoning at his home, 84 High street. Mr. Allen pricked his finger with a pin early last week, but thought little of the occurrence until Friday, when he was forced to go home. Saturday morning the right arm was swollen to the shoulder and medical aid was summoned. Dr. Carl Evans operated upon the flesh of the injured member, and Mr. Allen is reported so much improved Monday that amputation of the thumb, which was for a time considered advisable, may not be necessary.

How to Remove Tree Stumps.
In the fall bore a hole in the center of the stump about eighteen inches deep and one and a half inches across. Put in about two ounces of salt peter and fill the hole with water. Plug up tight. In the spring take out plug, pour in eight ounces or so of petroleum, ignite, and the stump will smolder, but not blaze, to the extremities of the roots, leaving but ashes.

How to Make Eyebrow Tonic.
If the eyebrows commence to fall out they will need a stimulating lotion. Make some strong sage tea, and to half a pint of the tea add one tablespoonful of alcohol. Apply this to the eyebrows with a soft brush once a day, taking care to follow the natural curve of the eyebrow. The sage tea will help also to darken them.

THE AUTOMOBILE HARVEST.
New York, Oct. 5.—Automobiles reaped a harvest of dead and injured in New York and nearby points yesterday. In each instance fast or careless driving was responsible. Three persons are dead, five may die, and several are in the hospital.

THE GIRLS WOULDN'T STAND FOR CONFETTI THROWING

Two nice looking young women, apparently from the country, were walking around the fair grounds last Saturday afternoon, taking in the exhibits, when two young men came up and threw confetti over the girls. The girls happened to be carrying small riding whips that were sold on the grounds, and immediately turned on the men and lashed them rather severely over the shoulders. The young men acted gallantly and took no pains to defend themselves, thinking the girls were joining in the general fun that was going on, and threw some more paper on the women. Then the girls got at them for keeps and gave it to the men wherever they could land, getting in several cuts on the men's faces. It looked serious for a moment, until the men saw that the girls did not understand what was intended, then they withdrew in good order.

Now, girls, confetti will not hurt your nice clothes, and you don't have to play unless you want to, and it's really a shame to lick the nice young "fellers" with horsewhips when no harm is intended.

CLASSES

OF EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT
OF Y. M. C. A., WHICH ARE NOW FORMING.

A New Feature Will Probably Be a Foreign Class for the Study of English.

The list of classes offered in the educational department of the Y. M. C. A. are commercial course book-keeping, arithmetic, correspondence, and commercial law. The fee for the season is $6.00, and includes a year's membership in the association. Prof. Loyd G. Millisor will teach the commercial classes. The special commercial classes, window trimming, and "show card writing," will enjoy the leadership of Mr. Lippincott.

Mechanical drawing is a standard study and is so much needed by every machine hand or pattern maker or apprentice in Newark that it ought to be one of the largest in enrollment. The course will be of the most practical kind. The mathematics for a mechanical course will also be taught, i. e., arithmetic, algebra and geometry.

A group of Hungarian young men came in the other evening to inquire about a class for the study of English. A class will be organized of foreign-speaking men and they will be taught to read, write, and speak the language of America as a part of their fitting for citizenship in the new country. It has been found that some of these men return to the homeland and do not come back, but the great majority finally become permanent residents of this country. It is probable that in addition to the lessons in English that some lectures on the history and laws of the United States will be given. Instruction in regard to the immigration and naturalization laws are particularly valuable to the foreign speaking men.

A class has been discussed and arrangements are partly worked out for it to study "The Theory of Moulding." This class would be very valuable to molders apprentices and "core makers." Practical men who have examined the course agree that the study will be a valuable part of the training of a first class workman.

circle of Mr. Roosevelt's friends, but also by his immediate family, and it is unreasonable to suppose that Mr. Longworth would have nominated his august father-in-law for re-election eight years hence if he believed that such suggestion was other than agreeable to Mr. Roosevelt.

"The American people are not disposed to turn their most exalted office into a merry-go-round in which presidents shall mutually help each other to rotate in office. Notwithstanding Mr. Taft's exceptionally useful record as a public servant and his captivating qualities as a man, the American people have looked askance at the manner in which his nomination was secured.

"To them it was an unwelcome spectacle that a president by the most open, flagrant and shameless use of Federal patronage and executive power should force the nomination of his successor, and they certainly will not welcome a suggestion which would seem to imply that Mr. Taft at the end of four or eight years shall use his influence as president to have his predecessor succeed him.

"For this and other reasons it is all important that if the anti-Roosevelt Republicans are to be held in line for Mr. Taft in order to avoid the destructive evils of Bryanism, Mr. Taft should speedily convince the element of the Republican party that he will be something more than an ad interim president.

Some friend should whisper in his ear that no presidential candidate has ever crossed the threshold of the White House as a 'me too,' president. The assurance is most necessary, for it is idle to gaily say that Mr. Taft's canvass has so far been a disappointment. From his past record as a judge and his splendid ability as a public administrator, the people have been led to believe that he had a rugged personality that would quickly show when occasion arose that he was his own man and not the mere shadow of another.

"In his speeches we have, with few exceptions, failed to detect a note of reasonable self-assertiveness and, avowed leadership. He has been at his best when he assailed Mr. Bryan's vagaries. He has been at his worst when he has informed his countrymen that his purpose is to 'clinch Mr. Roosevelt's policies.'

"His abrupt surrender of the details of the campaign to Mr. Roosevelt, his ready acceptance of Mr. Roosevelt's every utterance, and his voluntary submergence of his own personality in a campaign in which he should be the most potent leader, constitute one of the strangest and most unpleasant chapters in our political history. The best service that Mr. Taft can do himself, his party and his country is to assert speedily and in no unmeaning phrase that the Republican party has chosen him as its leader and that he will not merely follow.

"In the meantime, and for the good of the cause, we respectfully suggest to the great politician that he speedily withdraw his over-zealous son-in-law from the stump."

Blobs—I wonder if anybody keeps a diary nowadays? Blobs—All stationers do.

Cheery Mr. Sinclair.

"Now, I want to know," sniggered Miss Clementina Gibson, "what you come counting me for. You're nothing but a boy, and I'm forty."

"Fats! Forty! You may be a few years older than I am, but you're ten or twelve years this side of forty, and it wouldn't make any difference to me if you were fifty. As soon as I saw you I knew you were just the woman for me."

The man was Algernon Sinclair, a youngster of twenty-two. He had known Miss Gibson only a fortnight, but had been very persistent in his attentions during that time. He had appeared one morning at the door of her flat and asked for Miss Gibson. "I am Miss Gibson," "You're not the Miss Gibson I'm looking for. She's a red headed, freckled faced person, while you—well, you're simply beautiful."

Miss Gibson snickered and asked the good-natured, cheery young fellow to step in—perhaps she could help him in his search. He did step in and was in no hurry to step out. From that time forward he was devoted to Miss Clementina Gibson.

"Tickets to the theater tonight," he said one afternoon. "Got a box. We'll be right in among the swells, and you'll have to wear your best clothes. Put on what jewelry you have. Any diamonds? No? Well, I think I see my way clear to get you some before long if a deal I have on hand goes through. Pearls? Oh, a brooch set with pearls. Wear it without fail."

The young man rattled on in his funny way, quite delighting the elderly lady, who had caught his fancy. When he called for her in the evening and saw her attired in a pearl silk dress he held up his hands in admiration. The brooch he pronounced "a daisy."

"One, two, three, four, five, six, seven—seven pearls, and that big one in the center is a hummer. I'm not going to be ashamed of my girl tonight, you bet. Come on."

Whenever Mr. Sinclair took Miss Gibson out he manifested this same desire that she should be well dressed, and on occasions appropriate for jewelry he begged her to produce some new ornament that she had not worn before. But Miss Gibson was not inclined to wear her best gowns in public, though she was not disposed to have Mr. Sinclair think she hadn't fine gowns, and finally when he bet her a dozen pairs of gloves that she couldn't show half a dozen really first class dresses she brought out the half dozen and said she could "go two better."

Sinclair looked at them, lost in admiration, and the next day paid the bet.

One day he wrote her a note to say that he would call in the afternoon to take her to ride in an automobile, and wouldn't she wear that dress with the green figure—"snakes and turtles on a jamboree?" Miss Gibson laughed at his description and put on the dress indicated. Mr. Sinclair called at the hour appointed with a beautiful machine, which he drove himself, and they sailed out into the country. During the ride a man ahead with a camera waved his hat. Sinclair slowed up.

"He wants to take our picture," he said. "Let's have one."

"No, no; we don't want a picture."

"Yes; we do. Fire away, Mr. Photographer."

There was a click, and the picture was taken.

The next day there was a ring at Miss Gibson's door. She opened it and there stood Mr. Sinclair and another man with a warrant for her arrest. She cast an astonished look at Sinclair and turned pale.

"Who and what are you anyway?"

"Robert Williams, detective."

Mr. Williams, recently pretended lover, now only a paid hireling of a wealthy lady who had been robbed by her housekeeper, proceeded to ransack his ladylove's premises with no more evidence of feeling than if he had been a savage burying a tomahawk in her brain. The photograph of the dress with the figure of "snakes and turtles on a jamboree" had been sent to her employer, who had identified the dress as one of her own. Mr. Williams found the flat filled with stolen property, all of which belonged to the rich lady in question. The brooch with seven pearls was in a list of jewels he possessed lost by his client, and every one of the half dozen dresses that had won the bet was on a list of missing gowns.

The detective had been given the preface to this little story book, which was thus: Miss Gibson, housekeeper for Mrs. Bickford, had quarreled with her employer and had left her service owing vengeance. Some time after her departure the house was entered when the owner was away and a large quantity of property taken. Considering Miss Gibson's threat, Mrs. Bickford suspected that she had given the information that led to the robbery. Mr. Williams was put on the case and by his skillful handling of it secured the return of thousands of dollars of property and a handsome fee for himself.

Miss Gibson, now doing a term in the penitentiary, has vowed vengeance on the "little whippersnapper," as she calls him, who "talked soft" to her for a brief season only to trap her. When she got out of jail she is going to do something very terrible to him, but what it is to be she keeps to herself. Meanwhile the detective is employed in what his fellows have dubbed the "bandishment department for trapping old maids."

ELINOR T. ROYD

WORST THE WORLD HAS WITNESSED

And It Came Under the High Protective Tariff and Republican Control in Every Branch of the Federal Government.

In a public address, Mr. Shaw, recently Secretary of the Treasury under Mr. Roosevelt, said: "The stringency of 1907 is generally conceded to have been the severest the world has ever witnessed."

How consoling it is to read in the republican platform this glowing sentence: "A Republican tariff has always been followed by business prosperity."

Mr. Aldrich, in his speech on the Aldrich Currency bill in the Senate of the United States only last winter, said:

"Mr. President, the financial crisis from which the country has just emerged, which culminated in a serious panic in October, was the most acute and destructive in its immediate consequences of any that has occurred in the history of the country. Nothing but the heroic measures taken by the representatives of the great business and financial institutions of the country acting in co-operation with the Secretary of the Treasury, prevented a total collapse of private credit and a disastrous destruction of all values. The country was saved by the narrowest possible margin from an overwhelming catastrophe, whose blighting effect would have been felt in every household."

On February 11, 1908, Mr. Shaw, in a speech he made in Michigan, said: "Over 300,000 freight cars are standing on the tracks, 30,000 locomotives white leaded and out of commission, one-fourth of the population of several large cities idle, and for the first time under a Republican administration, free soup houses in every industrial center; the price of farm produce naturally and materially depreciated, furnish an object lesson which ought to produce a measure of sober-mindedness on the part of the American people."

From the public press is taken the following news item coming from Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 8, 1908:

"The cry of the unemployed daily grows more distressed in Pittsburgh. There are 15,000 men idle, and the spectre of the dreaded soup houses again makes its appearance. The first soup house will be opened by the Salvation Army Monday morning, and unless there is a radical and prompt change for the better, more places of this kind will be in demand before many days have elapsed. The situation is not really alarming, but it is bad enough. Soup houses have been the dread of the business men and civic leaders, and every effort has been made to avoid them."

Here is the following news item from Chicago, dated Feb. 11, 1908:

"Chicago, Feb. 11, 1908. Never in the history of the 'Chicago Relief and Aid Society' has there been such a demand for assistance as at the present time, is the claim of Superintendent Kingsley, who is in charge of the distribution of funds by the business men's relief committee, which has just raised between $25,000 and $30,000 for needy families. Never in the history of the society have we had so many appeals based entirely on the lack of employment."

Not long ago Mr. Dalzell, who writes the tariff tax, recently as dictated by the men who put up the money to pay the expenses of republican campaigns, told us:

"We do not read our tariff lessons out of books. We read them by the blazing light of open furnace doors, amid the noise of industrial activities and in the sweat of our brows that we coin into wealth, and God help the man or party that would put out these fires, still the music of that noise, and send the workmen home to a foodless and hungry household."

"It was under republican rule that this music was stilled, that the fires were put out, and that soup houses had to provide for the foodless and hungry."

No longer can any Republican ever fool the people by claiming that "a republican tariff has always been followed by business prosperity."

The time has come—the hour has struck—for a change. Thousands of Republicans take their positions and will vote for Bryan in November.

Revision.

It is an old-time Republican cry that "the tariff will be revised by its friends." Representative McCall of Massachusetts, a Republican, hit the nail on the head when in referring to this cry he said: "If the tariff cannot be revised when two-thirds of the membership of both houses is Republican, when is revision to come?"

Revision, through the Republican party, is to come whenever the beneficiaries of a high protective tariff are willing to surrender the enormous advantages they possess; and this surrender will be made whenever human selfishness is destroyed.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

Perhaps some men would find life more pleasant and endurable if they could get their wives' tempers insured.

Money is a useful and expensive article that creates much inconvenience and unhappiness by not being present.

Some women neglect their families shamefully—in some cases the families have reason to be truly thankful.

The trouble seems to be that there are more fortune tellers than there are fortune makers.

It is hard to judge of a man's intelligence by the smoothness of his pate.

It is enough to make a clock suspicious the way some people watch it.

Don't make up your mind until you have good, substantial material and plenty of it to use in the process.

Many a man is tagged a fool solely because we judge entirely by results.

The easiest way to climb the ladder of success is to possess and keep in active service both a push and a pull.

His Firstborn.

The proud and happy father, Erect, sedate and strong, Who takes the baby buggy And pushes it along. Imagines all his fellows With jealousy are mad Because he owns a baby That looks just like his dad.

He feels that men and ladies Must look at him and say, "My, what a fine procession Is passing down this way." And then he steps up lively And elevates his chest Until he puts in danger The buttons on his vest.

It does not as he passes Occur to him that some Might point him out to others With a derisive thumb. Or say they'd bet a cookie Could they but read his heart He'd rather see a ball game Than push a baby cart.

The father with his firstborn Moves on as in a dream. He thinks himself and baby Present a charming team. When several small attractions Are added to his flock He does it as a duty, Not for the pleasant shock.

Unresponsive.

"I have a bone to pick with you."

"Indeed?"

"But I have."

"Then you ought to be muzzled."

Read the Signs.

"He was sadly in need of a man-cure."

"How do you know?"

"I could see."

"Why, man, he did not remove his gloves."

"I could tell by his ears."

Lucky Baby.

The baby and the bumblebee Are playing on the lawn. The bumble has the start, you see, And that's the only reason that they keep on playing.

No Argument There.

"Have I the right to kill myself?"

"I don't know anything about your right."

"Well, have you the right to kill yourself?"

"That is none of your business."

His Estimate.

"It is as much as my life is worth to go through that dark alley at night."

"Much as your life is worth?"

"Yes."

"About $1.50, say?"

Chance For an Attraction.

"You find it hard to make a living."

"Yes, indeed. All avenues appear to be closed to me."

"What a pity you were not born a two headed calf."

Pity.

"He is a good talker."

"Yes, too bad too."

"What is?"

"That his talk isn't good."

Progression.

The candidate was on the stump And dealing out the "con." A natural place it seemed for he Was up one later on.

TWO CLAIMANTS FOR GOLD RING FOUND IN FISH

Fred Sites, of This City, Receives Letters from W. C. Holmes and W. C. Hare, Claiming Property.

A few days ago Fred Sites of this city, while fishing at the reservoir, caught a large black bass weighing a little over seven pounds and which when cleaned disclosed a plain gold band ring upon the inside of which was engraved the initials "W. C. H." The matter found its way into the city papers and Saturday Mr. Sites received the following letter from C. J. Marquart, senior member of the firm of The Marquart-Vogel company, dealers in dry goods at 1161 North High street, Columbus, O.

"Columbus, O., Oct. 2, '08.
"Mr. Fred Sites—
"Dear Sir: Enclosed find a clipping of Wednesday's Press-Post, which came to the notice of W. C. Holmes, and as he is not able to write, I hereby take the liberty of doing same for him. Some thirty years ago his mother presented him with a ring, a plain gold ring, medium wide, with the initials 'W. C. H.' engraved on the inside, and which he lost at the lake, and when he saw this in the paper he thought it would be a wonderful thing if he could in some way redeem the ring again, provided it is the one he lost. You, no doubt, are acquainted with this Mr. Holmes, as he thought surely you would remember him. If it is not asking too much from you, kindly inform him what disposition you are willing to make in regard to this ring, and oblige.
"C. J. MARQUART.
"P. S. W. C. Holmes' address is 1929 Sullivan avenue, Columbus."

The Mr. Holmes mentioned in the above letter will be remembered by many Newark people. For a number of years he was engaged in the grocery business with his father in the room now occupied by Charles Conrad. Mr. Sites regrets very much that he is unable to forward the ring to Mr. Holmes, but strange as it may appear there was a previous claimant. Friday he received a letter from W. C. Hare, a practicing attorney of Upper Sandusky, O., stating that during the month of October, 1896, he came to Buckeye Lake with a party of friends from Columbus, O., and while crossing the lake dropped a plain gold band ring into the water. His initials were upon the inside of same and he thinks in all probability that the ring in the possession of Mr. Sites may belong to him. Mr. Hare states that the ring was a present to him from Hon. M. A. Smalley, at present a member of the legislature from Washington state, but at the time the ring was lost, chairman of the Ohio State Democratic Executive committee and Mr. Hare was serving in the capacity of his private secretary.

Mr. Sites has forwarded the ring to Mr. Hare and expressed the hope that it may be his long lost ring which for twelve years has been swimming around the waters of Buckeye in the rumble of a red live fish.

ELEGANT RANGE GIVEN AWAY TO MISS ROBINSON

Great Interest Manifested in Event at the Fair—Newark Hardware Company's Generosity.

The gas range given away at the Licking county fair Saturday afternoon by the Newark Hardware company attracted much attention.

Mr. W. E. Miller, manager of this popular store, was ably assisted by Mr. Clark Knox, of Pittsburg, Pa., Mr. K. A. Frick of Bellefontaine, O., Mr. W. C. Wells and Miss Settles of this city, who were kept busy Thursday, Friday and Saturday, registering the callers and presenting tickets on the range, which was given away Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The drawing was very nicely carried on by two charming young ladies, Miss Grace Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Gray of near-Jacksontown, and Miss Frances Blamer, daughter of O. J. Blamer of Johnstown, and Mr. K. A. Frick, the representative of the Farmers' Wire Fence company, of Bellefontaine, was secretary. Senator Miller introduced each to the audience and stated that Miss Blamer, who would be blindfolded, would draw one ticket out of the box at a time and hand it to Miss Gray to call out the number and continue this until 23 numbers were drawn, which twenty-third number would be the lucky one. The numbers as drawn by the young ladies and recorded by Mr. Frick were as follows:

- 1—No. 1081, Alice Butcher, R. D. No. 2, Granville.
- 2—No. 1092, Dora Lisle, No. 27 N. Fifth street, City.

HARMON CLUB

At Granville Will Hold Meeting, Wednesday Evening—Hon. B. F. McDonald to Deliver Address.

Granville, Oct. 5.—Recently quite a number of new members have been taken into the Denison Harmon club of this place, and great interest is being manifested. This is the first Harmon club organized in the state, and includes in its membership not only students of the university, but many prominent citizens. The members of the club are making arrangements for a grand meeting on Wednesday evening of this week, which will be addressed by the Hon. B. F. McDonald of Newark. Mr. McDonald is an orator of state wide reputation and is thoroughly posted on all the issues of the campaign and those who attend the meeting will be given a rare treat in oratory.

Mrs. E. S. Shepardson, who for some years has been living in Boston, Mass., surprised her friends in Granville by suddenly putting in an appearance on Friday. She will be at the Buxton House for several weeks, where she will be glad to see all her friends. Mrs. Shepardson has always taken a great interest in Granville and Granville people.

Mr. W. P. Whitlock, who is traveling for the Ohio State Board of Commerce of Columbus, was the guest of Millard Lowery Saturday and Sunday. Miss Ella Howe, a teacher in the Columbus public schools, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Howe.

The hobos and knights of the road are beginning to gravitate to the places where they are most easily entertained for the winter, and those are the county infirmaries. After traveling around during the summer months they are seeking for a hibernation and are looking up county boards with that end in view. In the last two weeks quite a number have passed through Granville, making inquiries regarding the matter.

AS STRANGE AS FICTION

As True as Gospel—Proofs Not Wanting.

I give out this report for publication because I feel it my duty to society. For over fourteen years I was an invalid. I suffered so much that I often prayed for death. I spent over twenty thousand dollars in search of health, was treated by many prominent doctors and visited a number of watering places, but was growing worse all the time. Last summer I heard a great deal of Root Juice talk and I made it my business to investigate every reported cure. I was at last so well satisfied that I bought one dozen bottles. I had suffered so long that I felt I would not get any good out of a small amount and as I decided to give it a trial, I determined to try it right. I do not know what my disease was, as every doctor diagnosed my case differently. I can only give the symptoms and they were numerous. My appetite was good at times and at other times I had no appetite. At times I would bloat so I could not button my vest, mucus would drop from my head down my throat, especially in the morning; my breath was always bad; I had a burning sensation in my stomach most of the time; my kidneys gave me a great deal of trouble; I would often have to get up fifteen or twenty times during the night; I was constipated at times and at other times my bowels were too loose. I nearly always had a dull, heavy headache. After taking half a bottle of Root Juice I noticed improvement. I used six bottles before I stopped. All my friends in Peoria know just how I was and I want the world to know how I am now. I eat well and sleep well; there is not an ache or pain in my body. What a glorious gift is health, and I am free to say to the world Root Juice gave me mine." A. J. Donovan, Peoria, Ill.

The great Root Juice is sold for one dollar a bottle at the City Drug Store.

ANOTHER HAPPY MARRIAGE.
There was a young lady who lived over the way, who walked on her heels on a rainy day; and in the same way lived a man—so it goes, who to keep out of mud always walked on his toes. Now, this lady, we hear, was decidedly clever, and the man softly told her he'd love her forever—to prove this he married her—this was last year, they use Spartan Stain in their home, so I hear. Spartan Stain is the greatest varnish stain on earth for floors and furniture. Made by The Marietta Paint and Color Co., Marietta, Ohio. Sold by Newark Paint Co., 31 West Church street.
